

Health Career Day 2009

Wednesday, August 12, 2009

No charge to students!

An informative, fun, and unique experience for students interested in health careers!

Health Career Day teaches students about a variety of health careers, hospital principals and practices, and allows students to get an individualized shadowing experience. Students get to work with simulated "patients" to learn how to take vital signs and practice other medical readings and become educated on the healthcare industry from real healthcare professionals. Learn what it takes to become part of our growing healthcare industry –
